All the apple, internet and digital news that you can stand

IT'S A REAL DIGITAL WORLD NOW

Have you sometimes wondered what in the world is going on, I don't really recognize the world I see around me. It seems that everything Apple is changing faster than I can keep up with.

I used to think that I knew what the Mac was and how to use it to do the things I wanted to do. I even became sort of used to my iPhone and iPad. I managed to kinda keep up, even upgraded to the new (at that time) iPhone X.

Boy was I someone special, it knew my face and opened at my command. That was really neat, made me feel like I was a member of captain Kirk's crew on the Starship.

It seems like just last week that I got the iPhone X, (9/2017) but all of a sudden there was the XS & XS/MAX 9/2018, the XR 10/2018, 11 & 11/PRO 9/2018, the XR 10/2018, the 11,11pro & 11 PRO/MAX 9/2019 and now the SE 4/2020, the 12, 12PRO 10/2020 & finally 12 MINI - 12 PRO MAX 11/2020. That's 11 new iPhones since I got my iPhone X.

I had been lusting for a new iPhone since we upgraded my son's X to a iPhone 11 Pro MAX but I really wanted to wait and see what the iPhone 12 was going to have.

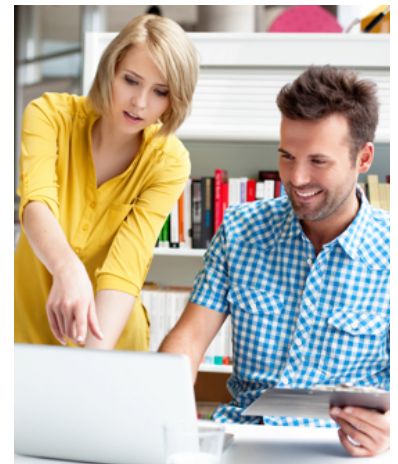

The rumors were that it would have 5G and I felt that might be worth the wait. Also I wanted to return to the max size since I am now using much more business apps to do things where ever I am.

With the upgrade to iOS 14 Apple has made both the iPhone and iPad much more versatile

As I sit here at my trusty Mac book air writing these words

I find it really embarrassing to realize that it is a year or more since I last communicated with our members about DMUG's future.

I am very grateful and honored that I have had the opportunity to serve DMUG in multiple capacities over the years. I have learned much, made many friends and enjoyed the journey. Even in those times I felt no one cared too much about what the presentation was about or those inevitable moments we all have when we ask our selves why am I doing this.

As I write this my mind reflects on all those years and meetings and I admit to myself that in the last few years my performance and our meetings were not up to my intentions and it was just a human condition that wound up with some meeting just going through the motions.

Truth be known even in the worst of meeting, once I was there I wound up enjoying the members company and the overall meeting feeling that yes the time was worth it.

So looking forward to the future I am reenergized and ready to move forward rebuilding DMUG into what we were in past years. Yes it is a new environment with new challenges, but I hope all or many of you will join in for the ride.

We have many ides and plans for the New DMUG starting now through this year and on in to 2021. It will take time and effort to get where we want to go but the journey will be fun.

While I as your humble leader is committed to keeping DMUG alive and rebuilding I what to once again say that this is not my user group it belongs (and always has) to you the members.

I will work as hard as I can to make it worth belonging too, but in the end it is going to be what we all make it. So if you have ideas, comments, criticisms or even applause don't hesitate to share them.

More info to come soon.

Apple iPhones 2017 to presnt dav

Since I have had some time to work with and study iOS 14 I find that this is a clear indicator of where Apple is going in the future. The features and ways of using iOS 14 make both the iPhone and iPad, devices that can make our daily tasks easier and also iOS 14 has many new things that are very useful.

In future issues of DMUG NEWS and our mini courses we will share in more depth things that make this new upgrade exciting.

Just to mention a few that I've found
Reminders • Calendar features •
Camera • Photos • Munch improved
Messaging • And several overlooked

features that were in previous os's that most iPhone users probably don't know are there. The future products and services from Apple are going to be exciting and will raise the bar very high for the competition.

See you with more in the December issue.
